Segment solutions

Stay cool with WECO products

The control of all types of supply, recirculation and exhaust air as well as air temperature changes start with an absolutely reliable and maintenance-free system module. This takes over the responsibility of the network connection and any kind of signal transmission and is therefore the heart of a system.

There must be no compromises here - no matter what weather, temperature, environmental influences or mechanical forces affect it. You get this assurance with WECO products - quality in every segment for long maintenance-free use.

For 100 years WECO has been the supplier for reliable components, which are characterized by highest quality and greatest durability. We are your worldwide partner for standard products and also for customer specific solutions in various applications.

OPTIMUM PRODUCTION

- Uncompromising reliability with THR or SMD products
- Perfect standard or customised solutions
- Highest productivity through packaging, adapted to your production process

INTELLIGENT ASSEMBLY SOLUTIONS

- Faster work processes thanks to pre-assembled products
